

“By Invitation Only” Break for Lecturers

---

Date: Tuesday, January 23, 2018

Time: 2:00-3:00 p.m.

Location: Lama 111A

- Problems with Lulima
  - If you change the course specifications in Banner, Lulima sometimes thinks it is a new course and the original course disappears, including grades. It happens periodically and randomly, not in every instance. There are no backups, no way to get the information back. This happened multiple times to him and others.
  - If it can't be fixed, then users should be warned. Announcements need to be sent out regularly.
  - There is about a half a dozen other problems with Lulima.
  - Is there any more discussion on replacing Lulima?
    - Canvas seems better.

- Why can't a non-credit student get a UH ID?

The class is 16-weeks but the student is taking it as non-credit. The class can be converted to credit.

  - We need clearer definitions on which students in continuing education should get a UH ID.

- Faculty appreciate knowing what the possible schedules are for the next semester.

In the past, it was done on butcher paper so it was more transparent. Now that it's done on the computer, faculty have no idea what the schedule will be. Can scheduling be more transparent? It would help morale.

  - When a lecturer is notified to teach a class, can the schedules be transparent? The current rule is that we need to let lecturers know their schedules ahead of time.
