

Lisa B. Radak

Lisa Radak is the Dean of the College of Health Science at a private, non-profit, comprehensive four-year college system in Michigan. She oversees 15 various allied health programs across 9 campuses. She has served in the role of curriculum specialist, campus learning management system trainer, clinical coordinator, and radiation safety officer.

Lisa has earned an Associate Degree of Applied Science in Radiologic Technology from Mid Michigan Community College in Harrison, Michigan, a post associate Certificate in Radiation Therapy at Chattanooga State Technical College in Chattanooga, Tennessee, a Bachelor of Health Administration and a Master of Business Administration, both from Baker College in Michigan. She is on track to graduate in 2019 with a PhD in Education with a concentration in Leadership in Higher Education.

As a site visitor for the JRCERT, Lisa has been an Item Writer for the ARRTs credentialing exam for Radiation Therapy and is in training for an administrative site surveyor for CAPTE. She co-authored the HOPE grant for Orthotics and Prosthetics to offer specialized training courses for prosthetic fitters for amputees and mastectomy patients. Lisa has authored several academic policies and procedures to include a Chemical Impairment Policy, Background Check Policy, Clinical Coordinator Workload Policy, and the Electronic Single Application Process for limited enrollment programs. Her literary works include lexicography for Stedman's Medical Dictionary 6th edition, and instructor resources for Principles and Practice of Radiation Therapy, 3rd edition, Washington & Leaver, 2010.